

Project Manager Mentoring

Current State

- According to Forrester, IT organizations have invested in project management certification and process improvement with some success. However, “Both the business and trade press have documented major IT project failures over the years, and numerous research studies have quantified these results.”

Mel Indyk & Associates, LLC.

- MIA will undertake a one-on-one discussion with one or more project managers of your choosing. We will then provide a priority order list of one-on-one tutoring sessions related to the career field. Once the items on the list are approved, MIA will initiate familiarization sessions to each perspective project manager.
